Sentences Are Handed Down in Circuit Court

A Hempstead Circuit Court jury recommendation was overridden by Judge Lyle Brown today as he sentenced Oscar Lee Allison to the state penitentiary for two years and suspended two additional years.

Allison was on trial for assault and battery and forgery. The jury recommended a suspended sentence. Judge Brown chose to ignore the recommendation and sentenced him.

His wife, Marie Allison, entered a plea of guilty to obtaining money under false pretense, passing hot checks and forgery and was sentenced to five years in the state penitentiary with the full sentence suspended on good behavior.

Willie Lee Criner was found guilty of aggravated assault and sentenced to 90 days in jail and $100 fine. He was found guilty of beating Louise Criner with two skillets. Both are Negroes.

Lee Helton pleaded guilty to aggravated assault and was sentenced to 30 days in jail and fined $100 with the jail sentence suspended on good behavior. Helton pleaded guilty to cutting a Mr. Rosenbaum on the arm during an argument at the Red River cafe at Fulton.

Cliff Richardson pleaded guilty to grand larceny in connection with the theft of handles from Bruner Ivory Handle Co. He was permitted to stand on present bond until July 10 pending further investigation.

Lee Dell Morrison, 23-year-old Hope Negro, pleaded guilty to carnal abuse and was given a five year suspended sentence.

Huian Hopkins, Prescott Negro, was found guilty of possessing untaxed liquor for sale in Hempstead County. This was a third offense, the previous convictions were in Mayor's Court at Prescott and in Clark County. He was given a three year suspended sentence. A woman companion was fined $137.50 for tossing a jug of whiskey out of the car as officers approached.

Judge Brown revoked one year of a three year suspended sentence given Dennis Moten of McNab in 1960 on a check charge. He did this because Moten had a pistol in his possession which was stolen by Glen Moten from Bright's Store at Fulton and other property stolen by Glen Moten and another in a Miller County burglary. Glen Moten was sentenced to three years, two suspended, for burglary of Bright's Store and Ina Logan's service station.

Annexations Find Support of Directors

Hope's City Board of Directors have approved by ordinance annexation of three areas comprising some 126 acres and a fourth petition for annexation is now before the County Court.

In action this week the Board okayed some 40 acres in the Southland Heights addition; some 60 acres north and east of Highway 4 (the Rosston Road) and some 26 acres which runs along Highway 67, taking in Meyer's Bakery.

A petition for the fourth area has been filed and will be heard by Judge Orie Byers at 2 p. m. on May 1. Actually this area simply squares up the city boundary lines. It runs south of Highway 4 from the Shover Springs road and back along the highway to 14th street.

Some of the landowners in the area involved are William Butler, Thurman Ridling, E. B. Stewart, Ralph Saunders, Mrs. B. M. Gentry, Weston Greene, Carter Sutton and William Bryant.

There was no immediate estimate as to the number of acres this area comprises. Acceptance, following court approval, will be a mere formality.

Sentenced for Slaying His Wife

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A Little Rock, Ark., man, who admitted strangling his wife after she told him she was spending time with another man, has been sentenced to life in prison for first degree murder.

Robert P. Uhlmann, 37, was sentenced Wednesday in Allegheny County court after two judges had listened to testimony for three days to determine the degree of guilt.

The furniture salesman was accused of flying from Little Rock to Pittsburgh last Aug. 21 and strangling his wife, Gloria Mae, 37, in her suburban Baldwin Township home.

Authorities arrested him in Little Rock about 12 hours later after he had flown back.

Uhlmann testified he came to Pittsburgh to urge his wife to return to Little Rock with him and to check reports she was having an affair with another man.

An argument developed, Uhlmann testified, he quoted his wife as saying:

"If you really want to know, there is someone else."

Pair Shoots It Out But Foul Claimed

CRAWFORDSVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Two men shot it out with each other in the traditional dueling pattern here—but later one complained from a hospital bed that the other had cheated.

Deputy Sheriff Gladstone Williams said Nathaniel Barker, 35, a Negro, accused Robert D. Holly, 36, also a Negro, of taking only nine steps instead of the agreed 10 as they walked away from each other early Sunday.

Barker said he turned after taking his 10 steps and found Holly facing him waiting. Barker was shot in the chest with small shot from a shotgun, and now is in a satisfactory condition at a Memphis hospital.

The wounded man said he got off one shot from a pistol but that the bullet went wild.

Williams said both men related they got in an argument after a drinking bout but disagreed as to the cause. One said it was about a car; the other, that it was about a girl.

Holly was jailed at Marion on a charge of assault with intent to kill. Williams said a similar charge would be filed against Barker.

Apparently both could be charged also with dueling. Arkansas historians said they don't believe such a charge has been invoked in the state since before the turn of the century.

State Paroles 56 Convicts

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The state Parole Board Wednesday paroled 56 convicts including Freeman Bramlett, who was sentenced to death in 1941 for the slaying of Crittenden County Deputy Sheriff Charles Goad.

Parole Director W. P. Ball said Bramlett, whose death sentence was reduced to life imprisonment by former Gov. Homer M. Adkins in 1942, was entitled to the parole after winning a bout with alcoholism.

Bramlett was first paroled in 1957 after Gov. Orval E. Faubus reduced his sentence to 45 years, making Bramlett eligible for release. He re-entered prison in 1959 voluntarily because of an alcohol problem.

Finch, Girl Friend Get Life Sentence

By PAT McNULTY

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "We'll fight it, darling, we're still alive." Wet-eyed and grateful a jury had spared their lives, Dr. R. Bernard Finch so consoled Carole Gregg Wednesday after a third murder trial jury decreed life imprisonment for the once wealthy surgeon and his red-haired mistress.

Finch and Carole—convicted of murdering the playboy doctor's socialite wife—broke into sobs when the 10 men and 2 women of the jury decided after a dozen suspenseful hours to send the lovers to prison and not to the gas chamber.

Carole, at 24 no longer the tawny beauty she was two years ago as Finch's pampered mistress, cried at the verdict: "No, no, I'll be an old woman when I get out."

Finch, 43, dropped his head on his folded arms and cried until the counsel table in the packed courtroom was wet with tears. Then he said to his attorney: "Thank God, thank God."

Thus after three trials, a year and a half of suspense and an estimated $750,000 of taxpayers' money, did one of the most publicized murder cases of recent years come to a dramatic conclusion.

Cuba Executes Two More Men

HAVANA (AP)—Firing squads executed two more men in La Cavana today, raising to 601 the unofficial total of persons executed by Prime Minister Fidel Castro's regime since he took power on Jan. 1, 1959.

They were condemned by separate military tribunals Wednesday night.

The two tribunals also sentenced 24 persons to prison for terms ranging from 9 to 30 years on charges of counterrevolutionary activities.

Saboteurs were blamed for a fire Wednesday night in one of Cuba's largest sugar mills, formerly the American-owned Hershey mill, 40 miles east of Havana.

The Castro regime announced it had smashed two counterrevolutionary bands operating in Oriente Province and captured seven insurgents.

The government charged that the insurgents were supplied by the U.S. naval base at Guantanamo Bay. Similar charges in the past have been denied by U.S. officials.

Big Population Loss in 20-39 Age Bracket

By JOHN R. STARR

WASHINGTON (AP) — Arkansas' heaviest population loss during the 1950s was in the productive 20 to 39 year age brackets, a study of 1960 census figures showed today.

The state's overall population loss was 6.5 per cent but losses in the so-called prime of life years ranged from 19.4 per cent for the 35-39 year group to 30.1 per cent for the 25-29 group.

During the same period, the number of persons 65 and over rose 20.6 per cent and population under 18 dropped 5.8 per cent.

The figures also reflect increasing urbanization. The heaviest influx was to the so-called urban fringe which showed a population increase of 93.1 per cent. Total population of the urban fringe in 1960, however, is listed as only 26,542.

Total urban area population rose 27.5 per cent to 765,303 while population of central cities was up 22.8 per cent to 239,624. The state still has more rural residents than cities dwellers, however, although the rural total of 1,020,969.

The urban trend broke down at the 10,000 population level. Cities under that population figure as a group lost 3.2 per cent of their inhabitants.

In figures, the number of persons between 20 and 24 declined from 134,892 to 99,852; in the 25-29 group the decline was from 131,089 to 91,647; the 30-34 group fell from 124,709 to 97,935, and the 35-39 group declined from 120,072 to 104,024.

The state had 194,372 persons over 65 in 1960, compared to 149,995 ten years before.

Broken down by races, the loss is 5.8 per cent of the whites and 8.7 per cent of the non-whites with an 8.9 per cent loss among the Negro race. The non-white total includes 590 Indians, 237 Japanese, 676 Chinese, 83 Filipino and 200 others.

Jacksonville, principally because of proximity of the Little Rock Air Base, experienced a fantastic 485.6 per cent growth during the 10 years. Other cities with large growth rates include

Great Solar Wind Is Discovered

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — A space probe sent aloft from Cape Canaveral, Fla., last week revealed the existence of a great solar wind sweeping outward from the sun at millions of miles per hour.

This was disclosed Wednesday by Massachusetts Institute of Technology scientists who conducted the experiment.

The solar wind, they suggested, could provide the power for future space vehicles.

The space probe, fired by a Thor-Delta rocket, was described as a short cylinder with a tapering tail four feet long. Several antennas extended from the main section.

In the surface of the probe a special cup was installed. When electrons and protons streamed through the cup opening in outer space they were converted into electrical signals transmitted to earth.

Wind direction was learned by observing the intervals in which the rotating probe recorded entry of particles. They entered only when the cup faced the sun.

Macmillan and Kennedy Chart Allied Strategy

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan focused their allied policy charting on the crisis in southeast Asia today, planning particularly for negotiations with Russia and Red China on a permanent settlement in Laos.

While the two leaders worked separately at the White House and the British Embassy, their foreign policy chiefs met at the State Department to review the progress of the British-American talks so far and get ready for the final rounds this afternoon and Saturday morning.

At a Potomac River dock the 92-foot presidential cabin cruiser was made ready for this afternoon's Kennedy-Macmillan meeting. The two men and their advisers were scheduled to board the cruiser "Honey Fitz" in mid-afternoon and spend two to three hours conferring on the Laotian crisis, the Communist threat in south Viet Nam, nuclear tests, disarmament and other issues in the cold war conflict between the Communist bloc and the Western powers.

The two Western leaders, in the second day of their Washington conference, were reported optimistic about Soviet agreement to a guaranteed cease-fire in the Laotian civil war.

They were expected to agree that once the fighting ends they should focus their efforts on unifying and neutralizing Laos, seeking that objective in a forthcoming international conference on the future of the Southeast Asian kingdom.

Kennedy and Macmillan, in fact were described as substantially agreed in their positions on a wide range of world problems—with one notable exception in the case of United Nations membership for Red China.

Cottrell Lashes Back at Gov. Faubus' Charge

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Rep. J. H. Cottrell of Pulaski County has again criticized Gov. Orval E. Faubus in their battle of statements growing out of the legislator's suit challenging constitutionality of the governor's $16 million omnibus law.

Faubus Wednesday allotted $35,500 from his emergency fund to keep two new cottages at the Children's Colony operating until July 1 and avoid the possibility of having to send home 32 newly-admitted children.

Faubus said he had intended all the time to take such action.

Cottrell responded that this was in contrast to the situation last weekend when he said Faubus "was fostering hysteria and confusion among the parents of these children by saying that the colony not only must turn down children already accepted but also would have to send children home who were already there."

Faubus last week halted all state construction—some of which had been authorized under a broad 1959 act—and said no money appropriated by the 1961 omnibus bill would be spent until Cottrell's suit was settled.

He said the newly-admitted children at the colony probably would be affected. The omnibus law contains an appropriation of $50,000 for operation of the new cottages until July.

In announcing the emergency allotment, Faubus again criticized what he blames for Cottrell's lawsuit.

He said they had showed "their cruel and inhuman attitude and the savagery with which they will deal with helpless children in order to cause difficulty for me."

Chancellor Guy E. Williams, who will try Cottrell's suit, Wednesday released to the colony $850 provided for it under the will of the late T. F. Kirk, a Lonoke planter.

Missile Could Blast Satellite

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Navy specialist says the service could develop within 18 months a missile to destroy an orbiting satellite.

Capt. Robert F. Freitag, astronautics officer of the Bureau of Naval Weapons, made the statement in testimony before the House Space Committee Feb. 20. This was before Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara gave the Air Force primary responsibility for military space research and development.

Freitag's testimony was made public today.

"I talk about a minimum-energy missile, that is, a missile which is launched vertically with just enough power to arrive at the altitude of the satellite at zero velocity," he testified.

"At that point it can hover and wait for the satellite to come and then by terminal guidance, seek out the satellite and kill it with sonic mechanism."

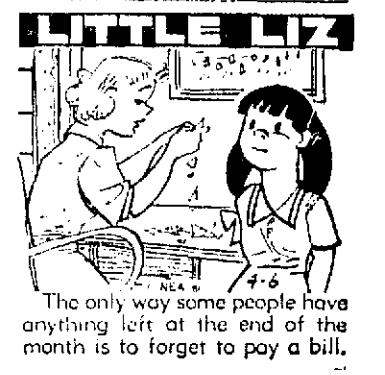

Spade Cooley Held on Murder Charge

BAKERSFIELD, Calif. (AP) — Onetime hillbilly musician Spade Cooley stared blankly in court as he was ordered to stand trial for the murder of the former singer he married 15 years ago.

The erstwhile "king of western swing" failed to acknowledge an introduction to his lawyer Wednesday — and seemed not to know his son by a previous marriage, John Cooley, 28.

Ella Mae Cooley, 37, who once sang with Cooley's band, was beaten to death during a violent quarrel Monday. Cooley was arrested after taking his wife to the hospital that night.

District Attorney Kip Nelson said he may take the case to the grand jury for a direct murder indictment. Preliminary hearing was set for April 26.

Despite Truce Congo Troops Battle UN

By ERROL FRIEDMANN

ELISABETHVILLE, Katanga (AP)—The Katanga government both black and white residents of Elisabethville kept up an economic war today against United Nations troops despite President Moise Tshombe's truce with the U.N. command.

All business places, including garages and cafes, still refused to serve U.N. personnel.

The chief U.N. spokesman in Katanga, Michel Tombelaine, was ejected from a downtown hotel Wednesday night by the hotel manager and a Belgian police officer as a crowd of whites jeered.

The Belgian officer and Marcel Tigene, Belgian adviser to Interior Minister Godefroid Munongo, told Tombelaine that Tshombe's order to impose economic sanctions on U.N. troops had not been rescinded.

A U.N. spokesman said Wednesday that after a conference with U.N. officials, Tshombe had agreed that sanctions would be "suppressed but not lifted." The spokesman called this terminology a face-saving device by the president. But neither the Katanga radio nor local newspapers made any mention of Tshombe's assurance.

The U.N. military commander in the Congo, Gen. Sean McKeown of Ireland, warned Tshombe during the two-hour conference he would reinforce his troops in Elisabethville with Indian troops if there was repetition of Tuesday's mob violence against the U.N. force. Tshombe violently opposed use of Indians in Katanga. About 300 Irish troops poured into Elisabethville Airport Wednesday to relieve the Swedish garrison that was attacked Tuesday. There was no resistance to the arrival, and another 600 Irish were expected today.

Under the agreement with Tshombe, the Irish and Katanga police will guard the airport jointly.

Swedish troops early Tuesday thwarted an attempt by a small Katanga army detachment to take full control of the airfield, which was controlled jointly by the U.N. and Katanga police. Enraged, Tshombe ordered "general sabotage" against U.N. personnel, cut off the electricity and water at U.N. headquarters, and whipped up a mob march on the airport.

Cuba Seems Reluctant to Renew Claim

By TOM HOGE

UNITED STATES, N.Y. (AP)

Cuba today appeared reluctant to bring before the United Nations her perennial charge that the United States is planning aggression against Fidel Castro's regime.

The assembly's political committee is marking time during a lull in its aid-to-Africa debate and the Cuban complaint is next on the agenda. But the Cuban delegation made no move to air the issue.

Informed sources said Cuba's enthusiasm for a debate cooled after the Soviet Union hinted it was not anxious to get embroiled in such a wrangle at this time. Since the assembly's cleanup session began March 7, both the Soviet Union and the Western powers have been urging their colleagues to keep the agenda free of inflammatory issues and stick as closely as possible to housekeeping items.

With this in mind, the United States and the Soviet Union agreed to put off disarmament debate until fall. The assembly is also expected to give only token consideration to such cold war items as Hungary, Tibet and the Soviet charge against U.S. reconnaissance flights.

There was speculation also that the Cubans might want time to study the State Department's statement Monday calling on Castro's government to sever its links with the international Communist movement. The American statement is certain to get a thorough going over when Cuba does bring her charge before the assembly.

Elsewhere in the United Nations: France flatly rejected proposals for helping pay the $120-million bill for the 1961 U.N. Congo operation. She proposed to the budget committee an overhaul of the entire U.N. budget procedure and appointment of a bill collector who would shuttle from capital to capital to negotiate on contributions for U.N. funds.

The money situation also came up in the assembly where Canada pleaded with member states to give the U.N. Congo operation financial support. Failure to cover the Congo bill, said Canada's Wallace B. Nesbitt, "would place in jeopardy the ability of this organization to take effective action in other situations in the future."

could lead to trouble between the United States and Britain at next fall's meeting of the U.N. General Assembly. But the President and prime minister indicated a determination to do everything possible to minimize the split.

They discussed the Red China issue at the White House Wednesday in a series of meetings which began at 11 a.m. and continued until after 6 p.m. U.S. and British officials subsequently described the consultation as "most valuable and useful" in providing a basis for strengthening allied cooperation in many fields, despite the inability of either Kennedy or Macmillan to do anything to narrow the differences on Red China.

The new round of talks today was scheduled to begin with a meeting between Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Foreign Secretary Lord Hume of Britain. Macmillan planned to attend a luncheon given by Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Kennedy arranged to take the prime minister on a late afternoon trip down the Potomac River aboard a 92-foot presidential motor cruiser which he has named "Honey Fitz" after his maternal grandfather.

Postponed Trial of 31 Negroes

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Circuit Judge William J. Kirby has postponed the jury trials of 31 Negroes until the state tests a federal court charge that a pattern of racial discrimination is shown in selection of Pulaski County jurors.

Kirby postponed the trials until the September term of court. Included in the 31 are three Negro teen-agers accused of raping a white girl in North Little Rock last month.

Kirby said he would delay all Negro jury trials until the state tests a ruling by the 8th Circuit Court of Appeals in St. Louis, which reversed the conviction of Luther Bailey, a Negro, who was tried and sentenced to death in 1956 for raping a white woman. The state was ordered to retry Bailey within nine months and the court cited racial discrimination in jury selection as grounds for overturning the conviction.

tion at Fulton.
Ruth Gulley Itach pleaded guilty to passing hot checks and was given a five year suspended sentence. This was her second offense and a second five year suspension. Judge Brown suspended the sentences because the woman has seven minor children.

In a civil suit Mrs. Cy Honea was awarded judgment of $22,272 from Oscar Lee Scott of Bossier City, La.

The suit was the result of an accident earlier this year in which Cy Honea, an inspector at the State Plant Board checking station, was killed by an auto driven by Scott. Scott was sentenced on a charge of manslaughter in Miller Circuit Court and is now serving time in the Arkansas penitentiary.

Finch, Girl

Under California law, Finch and his now plumpish paramour will be eligible for parole, depending on their prison record, in seven years—1968.

The case was front page news from the chilly morning of July 19, 1959, when the body of Barbara Jean Finch, 36—a bullet in the back—was discovered on the lawn next to the Finch estate in suburban West Covina.

In the three trials—the first two ended in jury deadlocks—Finch testified that he went to see his wife to plead for a divorce, not to kill her. He said she pulled a gun, they struggled—and the weapon accidentally went off.

Mrs. Brown, who faintly resembles the slain woman, said she portrayed Mrs. Finch as the jurors re-enacted the doctor's version of his wife's death. She said three male jurors—approximately the same height, 5 feet, 10 inches, as the doctor—played Finch's role. Her dying words—according to Finch: "I'm sorry, darling, please take care of the kids."

The death weapon has never been found.
Their attorneys automatically made a motion for a new trial, but attorney Keith admitted he has little hope the motion will be granted.
Judge David Coleman set April 17 for a hearing on the motion. Finch and Carole may be sentenced at the date, too.

Big Population

Benton 65.7 per cent, Dumas 40.9, Magnolia 54.0, Springdale 72.7, Warren 58.2 and West Memphis 112.6.

Although Pulaski County showed a 23.5 per cent population increase to lead all counties, the Little Rock urban area had an overall growth on only 20.4 per cent, far behind some of the burgeoning smaller cities.

The only counties to gain besides Pulaski were Crittenden with a tiny increase of .8 per cent, Jefferson with 7.0, Saline with 21.6 and Sebastian with 3.9 per cent.

Twenty-three counties lost more than 20 per cent of their population. The loss list was led by Izard with 32.0 per cent and Newton with 31.3 per cent.

Seven counties—Benton, Boone, Clay, Cleburne, Searcy, Sharp and Stone—showed no non-white residents in the 1960 census.

Countdowns to Be Shortened

WASHINGTON (AP)—The long-range countdown may be quickened for the three Mercury astronauts who are first in line for space travel.

In about two weeks they will undergo tests in a giant centrifuge, a whirling device which will expose them to the same acceleration forces one of them will endure when he is rocketed into space.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration said Tuesday the tests will be given at the Navy installation at Johnsville, Pa.

NASA declined to say when a manned flight will be attempted. It is expected to take place early in May.

DOROTHY DIX

Her Steady Clings to Tragedy

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen:

I am 19 and very much in love with a man of 28. Seven years ago he was in an automobile accident with his fiancée. He was at fault and his fiancée killed.

He cannot forget and is honest about this; says he thinks the world of me but doubts if he could ever bring himself to marry. He is moody and becomes angry if I cry when he tells me these things. I would gladly be second choice if he only would marry me. Yet he is jealous if I show interest (feigned on my part) in any other man.

Am I doing wrong or right in continuing to see him under these circumstances? I can't bear the thought of day after day going by without him and knowing there is no one to comfort him. —Miserable

Dear Miserable: Hard though it is, don't temporize. Either this man loves you, or he doesn't. Granted his experience was tragic but, if he is a man of character, he will develop because of it. In any event, only by freeing him can you hold him. Coddling won't help.

Dear Helen:
I am hoping you can help me not to worry. When I first came to the city I stayed with my brother and his wife. It soon became evident that her sister, as a result I moved. At first my sister-in-law suspected nothing but now I think she does, for she and my brother quarrel a lot and they never did that before. I hate to see their lives ruined. They have a sweet little boy. Should I forget the whole thing and not meddle, or tell my brother off? —J.

Dear J.: There are times when silence is golden and this is one of those times. You'll get no thanks for talking out of turn.

Dear Helen:
E. G. wrote that she didn't want her 9-year-old daughter to take a bubble-bath. I'm a little girl and my mother and I think that's absurd. After all, what is a bubble bath for, if not to please the young? It also encourages them to bathe. My mother and I enjoy your column very much and think it educational. —B. G., Ontario

Dear B.G.: What a nice, friendly letter! I thoroughly agree with you about bubble-bathing for young — and old.

Send your problems to Helen Worden Erskine. Be sure to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope and address her care of this newspaper. Helpful letters available. Write for "On Being Popular."

They Couldn't Stop Giggling

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—When Emmett Hall heard giggling inside a 14-foot-high tank, he figured the two painters inside were enjoying themselves.

But when the giggling continued for 15 minutes, Hall figured nothing could be that funny.

So Hall called Tom Mason, superintendent of the Chlorine Solution Co., who clambered into the tank and found Charles Hasford, 35, and Don Seilheimer, 26, reclining around, stupefied by a combination of paint fumes and heat.

Then Mason started giggling. Hall called an ambulance. Mason, Hasford and Seilheimer were treated at a hospital and pronounced in good condition.

Art, in a formal sense, probably was first represented in Arkansas by George Catlin, whose 470 full-length paintings of Indians and tribal scenes hang in the Catlin Gallery of the National Museum in Washington, D. C.

babies are bargains

Hospital rates have risen considerably in recent years, like most everything else. But now, mother and baby stay only three to five days instead of ten. Were it not for new medical discoveries and techniques that get mothers home sooner, the hospital bill would be twice as high.

Donovan Shows Comeback Sign With Senators

By ED WILKS Associated Press Sports Writer

It's been a great spring for Dick Donovan, the one-time Chicago White Sox ace who gained a chance for a new life with the new Washington Senators. And at the moment, it must feel like the greatest spring ever for the big right-hander.

Dropped out of the starting rotation by the White Sox a year ago, and then grabbed by the Senators for $75,000 in the American League's player pool, Donovan pitched a full nine innings for Washington Wednesday and beat the Philadelphia Phillies 10-2 with a seven-hitter.

The victory padded the spring exhibition record, tops among American League clubs, to 14-3 for the Senators, who debut at home against the White Sox Monday.

Elsewhere Wednesday, the Detroit Tigers made it two in a row over Pittsburgh, whipping the world champion Pirates 12-8; the New York Yankees beat St. Louis on the fifth try, 5-4 in 11 innings; Cincinnati defeated Milwaukee 5-4. San Francisco stopped the Los Angeles Dodgers 2-0; the Boston Red Sox beat Chicago's Cubs 4-3, the White Sox defeated Kansas City 3-1, the Los Angeles Angels beat Cleveland 5-3 and Minnesota and Baltimore split a doubleheader, the Twins winning 7-4, then losing 5-4 in seven innings. The Senators backed Donovan with a dozen hits, but needed only one while scoring five runs in the sixth inning against a wild Johnny Buzhardt.

Jim Bunning went nine innings for the second time this spring for the Tigers, although allowing 13 hits. Rookie Bubba Morton, Dick Gernert and Rocky Colavito hit home runs off loser Vinegar Bend Mizell and Bobby Shantz.

After Bill Skowron kept the Yankees in the game, driving in the first four runs with a double and three-run homer, slumping Roger Maris singled home the winning run off Ronnie Kline.

Southpaw Mike McCormick and Stu Miller combined for a six-hit job that handed the Dodgers their first shutout of the spring. Don Blasingame produced the run the Giants needed in the fifth inning with his first home run of the spring, off Stan Williams.

Don Buddin, back after a two-week bout with an allergy, hammered a home run and drove in another run with a single for the Red Sox.

The White Sox made fine pitching by Early Wynn and Gerry Staley pay off when Ed Rakow walked in the winning run in the eighth inning.

Jerry Casale and Ron Moeller allowed Cleveland just six hits, and Casale opened a clinching three-run fifth for the Angels with a double.

Detroit Team in Bowling Lead

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Stroh's are riding high for the moment in the American Bowling Congress Tournament with a chance of taking over the classic division team lead.

The Stroh's, making the best start so far of any classic team, smashed out a 3,006 in their first three games Wednesday night. They roll their second three tonight, needing a 2,905 to take the lead from the Chicago Hamm's. The Hamm's have led since last Saturday with their 5,910.

Bob Strampe paced the Stroh's with a 668. Bob Crawford rolled 606.

Sharing the alleys tonight with the Stroh's will be the national champion St. Louis Falstaffs in their tournament debut.

Fort Smith, with 1,530 people, was the third largest city in Arkansas in 1860, ahead of Pine Bluff, the fourth largest, by about 150 persons.

HEBER SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — A group of Houston, Tex., businessmen has bought about 28,000 acres of land in the Greers Ferry Lake area in what was reported today to be the largest single real estate transaction in this part of the state.

Agent for the Houston men was E. F. Evers, who recently bought a large farm in this area for a horse ranch. Names of other buyers were not disclosed.

Estimated sale price was $500,000. The land includes 1,800 acres of lakeshore property.

The lake is not completed yet, but the dam is under construction. The land is in Cleburne, Van Buren, White, Stone, Independence and Pope counties. The sale was announced today by Robert L. Harrison of Heber Springs, real estate agent who handled it.

Celtics Again Lick Hawks to Make It 2-0

By BOB HOOBING Associated Press Sports Writer

BOSTON (AP) — Bob Cousy, the old master of pressure play, says no collection of all stars could beat the Boston Celtics when they play their top game.

"We played as a team in the second half," the twenty Cousy said Wednesday night after his 26 points and 14 assists keyed a 116-108 victory over St. Louis.

Though Boston leads the best-of-seven, National Basketball Association championship playoff series 2-0, the players are unanimous in the feeling they will not be able to win in four straight.

The next two games are in St. Louis Saturday and Sunday afternoons and will be televised nationally.

"We were hurting without the big guy," was the opening utterance of Hawks' Coach Paul Seymour referring to center Clyde Lovellette who is sidelined by a back injury. Though there is a chance Lovellette can play this weekend "I won't dress him unless he's 100 per cent okay," Seymour said.

Known for peak performances in the "big ones" throughout his 11 year NBA career, Cousy had never been a more spectacular playmaker.

"It's pride," Cousy explained. "The playoffs are like a command performance before royalty. Not many get the chance and here it is facing you. So you stuff up with pride and get yourself fired up to a pitch. Yeah, it's still a great challenge."

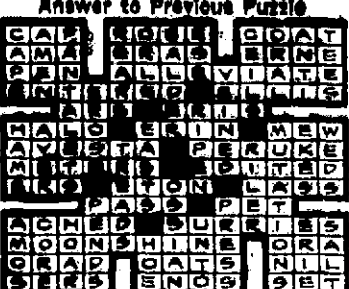

Cousy was taken out of the game with 2 1/2 minutes to play and slumped over on the bench while the 13,900 Boston Garden spectators roared a tribute to his performance.

"I was choked up with a chest congestion and couldn't breathe," Cousy said. "I was making frantic signals to the bench to get me out. The crowd? It was more of a eulogy than an ovation—they probably thought I was going to die," he added with a laugh.

Meat Should Be Cheaper at Markets

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

With meat production going up, it's meat and more meat for this weekend in the neighborhood and supermarket specials.

One giant chain is offering a 10 per cent discount on all meat purchases.

Last week's turkey and ham offerings have given way in many places to ribs of beef, all kinds of roasts, veal and lamb. Fryers, generally lower in many places, are also being offered to vie for the housewife's pocketbook and the Sunday feast.

Eggs generally are lower—from 2 to 7 cents below last week's prices.

The best buys in vegetables are artichokes, beets, celery, cauliflower, middle sized yellow onions, parsley, eastern potatoes, spinach, green Italian squash, kale, lettuce, parsnips and turnips.

Good buys are broccoli, cabbage, carrots, corn, cucumbers, eggplants, endives, large size onions, green peas, russet and new Florida potatoes, radishes and sweet potatoes.

For fruits the best buys appear to be Macintosh and some apples, bananas and grapefruit while good buys are red and golden Delicious apples.

Other good buys in the fruit department are Chilean and Peruvian honeydews, lemons and oranges.

Still fairly expensive among the fruits are canteloupes, limes, Spanish melons, best quality strawberries and grapes, both domestic and imported.

EGGS LOBBY

Maltreatment Is Charged to Cuban

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. government today accused Cuba's Castro regime of maltreating U.S. citizens held in Cuban jails.

The State Department said officials are not giving enough food and medicine to the Americans—and also are stopping U.S. gift foods and medicines from reaching the prisoners.

About 22 U.S. citizens are reported to be in Cuban prisons under various sentences.

The jails are already overcrowded with Cubans imprisoned by the pro-Communist Castro government.

State Department press officer Joseph Reap said he does not know whether the Americans are getting worse treatment than the others, or whether their food supply had been cut to the point of starvation.

Gary Player Going After the Masters

By JERRY LISKA

Associated Press Sports Writer
AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — South Africa's Gary Player, the year's leading money winner, conceded today he was all cranked up to become the first foreigner to win the Masters golf tournament which starts Thursday.

"I've really been working hard for this tournament," said the perky 25-year old Player. He has earned $25,217 and is the only pro who has finished in the money in all 12 PGA circuit events played thus far in 1961.

Only Arnold Palmer, everybody's choice to become the first repeating champion in the 25-year Masters history, ever took a bigger winter bankroll into this elite show over the Augusta National course.

Palmer, who has won $22,042 in 10 meets this year, had a record $26,757 banked before he stormed to a birdie-birdie finish to win his second Masters title and a swag of $17,500 in 1960.

"I've only had practice rounds of 72 and 71, but I've been conserving as much energy as possible," said Player. He has shot in the 60s in no fewer than 30 of his 49 competitive rounds to date.

However, the Masters' 90-player charge for Palmer's coveted crown will come from every side in the 72-hole medal play chase over Augusta National's blooming acres.

Practice sessions regularly have produced rounds under the standard 36-36-72 figures despite vigorous winds.

Patterson to Face Cooper or Machen

By MURRAY ROSE

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson will face either England's Henry Cooper or Eddie Machen next while Sonny Liston settles for Sweden's Ingemar Johansson.

That appeared to be the picture for boxing's big boys today with both bouts ticketed for September. The title go probably will be held in New York's Yankee Stadium and the Liston-Johansson in international special in Ingemar's home town of Goteborg, Sweden.

Cooper, the British and British Empire heavyweight king from London, has the inside track for Patterson, it is understood, although Machen's hopes were raised by a promoter's statement Tuesday.

Tom Bolan, recently appointed executive director of Feature Sports Inc., said the contenders' field for the Patterson plum had narrowed down to Machen and Cooper. That leaves out Liston, the No. 1 contender from Philadelphia.

Machen, the No. 2 contender from Portland, Ore., will have to show impressively against Mike DeJohn, No. 6 contender from Syracuse, N.Y., in their Monday night clash at San Francisco to merit a look-in.

"Patterson told me he will fight in September against a top challenger," said Bolan. "He asked me to talk with two or three proposed challengers. He said he felt Machen, because of his high ranking, should be given serious consideration. So it looks like either Machen or Cooper in September."

Johansson himself passed on the latest word on the proposed fight with Liston. Visiting Oslo where the movie of the March 13th fight was being shown, Ingo said negotiations were under way for the fight with Liston in Goteborg.

Peaches, grown in pre-Territorial Arkansas by Cherokee Indians, became a commercial crop about 1900.

La. Tech Is Winner of Track Meet

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Louisiana Tech and Little Rock Central won track championships in the Tiger Relays here Tuesday night.

Sprinter Pat Garrett won the 100- and 220-yard dashes and anchored two winning relay teams to help Tech rack up 82 2-3 points to win the college division. Arkansas State Teachers finished second with 51 2-3 and Ouachita was third with 16 2-3.

Central chalked up 110 points, finishing far ahead of Benton, which had 49 1-3, in the high school division.

David Dick of Fort Smith won both hurdles event, setting a meet record of 14.8 in the highs, to lift the Grizzlies into third place with 44 5-6 points.

Fred Rath of Central won the high jump and then finished second in the shot and the two hurdles races.

Central sprinter Mike Hoffman cracked meet records in the 100 with a 10 flat clocking and the 220 with a time of 22.6.

In all, the preppers established eight new meet marks. Rath's 6-3 effort in the high jump bettered the state record.

Jamie Ward of Teachers won the discus with a meet record heave of 144 feet, 9 inches and Buddy Voegel of the Bears took the shot with 43 feet, 6½ inches.

Teachers won both hurdles events with Bill Melton taking the highs in the record time of 14.8 and Wilbur Ownes annexing the lows in 19.5, another record.

Little Rock La. Tech won fourth place in the prep event with 21 points. Helena had 12, North Little Rock 10, Wynne 9, Carlisle 6 1-3, Fordyce 6, McGhee 6, Bentonville 5, Bryant 4, Malvern 2½ and Forrest City, Hughes and Malheville 2 each.

The average age at which John F. Kennedy's predecessors became President was 55 years.

State Trooper Faces Charge

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Former Clay County Sheriff Bill Bookout has charged in a Circuit Court suit that State Trooper Victor Hanshaw attacked him March 10 near Reclor after stopping Bookout's car and asking for a driver's license.

The suit charges the trooper became abusive when Bookout had difficulty finding his license. Bookout said a minister was riding in the car with him. The suit asked for $6,000 for alleged injuries and $6,000 for punitive damages.

Bookout's suit said Hanshaw made him get out of the car, forced him against a nearby car and kicked him. Bookout said he did not try to defend himself and said the attack continued until another officer approached. Then, he said, he was allowed to drive on. He said the trooper made no attempt to arrest him.

GE Hires a Former White House Aide

WASHINGTON (AP) — Clark Clifford, former White House aide, has been retained by General Electric Co. to deal with claims arising from the company's antitrust law conviction in Philadelphia.

The Philadelphia case involved 29 leading companies which pleaded guilty or no contest to charges that they had rigged bids on heavy electrical equipment sold to public and private agencies over a number of years. Many of the defendants are now threatened with multimillion-dollar damage actions.

Clifford, who heads the Washington law firm of Clifford Miller, was special counsel to former President Harry S. Truman and acted as President Kennedy's representative at the White House during the transition between the Dwight D. Eisenhower and Kennedy administration. Clifford, in confirming the retention of his firm by GE, said "a number of different types of problems have arisen for GE as a result of the Philadelphia conviction."

"A substantial number of utilities have potential claims, and an effort will be made to adjust those claims," Clifford said.

"Also, a number of stockholders suits have now been filed against the company. Third, the government has presented claims and I believe in one instance has filed suit."

"My employment is to counsel and advise with top company officials regarding the legal problems that will confront the company for some time to come."

The Justice Department and Tennessee Valley Authority recently filed suit in Philadelphia against GE and four other electrical suppliers for recovery of about $12 million in connection with government contracts for purchases of circuit breakers dating back to 1951.

Predicts a Special Session

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — State Sen. Roy Milum of Harrison, the first man to publicly question the constitutionality of Gov. Orval E. Faubus' $16 million omnibus law, predicted today there would be a special legislative session to re-allocate the appropriations in the measure.

During the recent General Assembly Milum said the bill was unconstitutional because it didn't follow a requirement that, with certain exceptions, all appropriations be made by separate bills.

He also said it constituted an illegal delegation of legislative authority.

These are among the grounds on which the measure has since been attacked in court.

Besides predicting a special session, Milum said he believed Faubus' companion measure for a $60 million state construction bond issue would be defeated if it gets to a vote.

"There is a question in my mind whether it will ever come to a vote," he said.

Agri Secretary to Speak in State

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman has acknowledged an invitation to speak at the annual stag barbecue meeting of the Pine Bluff Chamber of Commerce this summer.

A chamber spokesman said Freeman is holding the invitation in abeyance until his plans are more definite.

The invitation will be personally extended next week by Jefferson County Agent Robert W. Schroeder, who will be in Washington attending a meeting of the National Association of County Agents.

mind whether it will ever come to a vote," he said.

The bond plan is subject to approval at a statewide special election. So far Faubus has not set a date for the election.

Milum was interviewed during a visit here.

Last week Rep. Virgil Fletcher of Saline County suggested a special legislative session. Faubus said he didn't plan to call to a vote.

Rusk Briefs Broadcasters on Policy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary Dean Rusk and other high State Department officials spoke today at a foreign policy briefing for broadcasters from around the country.

President Kennedy will address the group Tuesday.

Under the rules set forth for the conference, nothing Rusk or the others said could be quoted directly or attributed to them by name.

The information could be used only through such means as a reporter saying he "understands" U. S. policy is thus-and-so.

The two-day briefing is being held by the State Department in a move to spread public understanding of U. S. foreign policy. Attending this morning's session in the State Department auditorium were about 500 radio-TV executives, commentators and newsmen, who came to Washington at their own expense.

A similar session for newspaper and magazine men will be held

Castro Urged to Sever Red Ties

By HARRY KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has urged Fidel Castro's Cuban regime "to sever its links with the international Communist movement."

The statement, issued Monday, accused Castro of betraying the Cuban revolution and leading the Caribbean island into Communist bondage.

It was the Kennedy administration's toughest indictment of Castro so far.

The U. S. statement said it is the government's belief that "the Castro regime in Cuba offers a clear and present danger to the authentic and autonomous revolution of the Americas."

"What began as a movement to enlarge Cuban democracy and freedom has been perverted, in short, into a mechanism for the destruction of free institutions in Cuba, for the seizure by international communism of a base and bridgehead in the Americas, and for the disruption of the inter-American system."

The U. S. position—following in essence the lines drawn in the Eisenhower administration—was set forth in a 36-page pamphlet issued by the State Department. Press officer Lincoln White said "because of the tremendous public interest of the United States in Cuba, this pamphlet for public consumption is a straight-forward presentation of the situation in Cuba."

The pamphlet is a summation of U. S. government allegations and reports presented as U. S.-Havana relations worsened.

Copies and Spanish-language texts were prepared for distribution throughout Latin America, to the Organization of American States, the International Organization of the 21 American republics, and for the United Nations.

Prime Minister Castro is expected to make a wrathful reply. But the only comment to date came from the government-controlled radio which said the U. S. statement contained "the usual anti-Cuban refrains."

In picturing Cuba as a Communist beachhead in the Americas, the State Department document said Castro has increased the Cuban military force to 10 times the size of any Cuban army.

New Workers Keep Jobless Total High

By NORMAN WALKER

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government is studying a sudden puzzling upsurge in the nation's work force that promises to keep unemployment high even with substantial economic recovery.

One possible explanation is that many women, and perhaps teenagers, are entering the job markets seeking income because the chief family breadwinner can't find work.

The work force data was put out by the Labor Department Tuesday as part of its regular summary of the nation's employment situation in March.

This showed that while unemployment fell by 210,000 in February to 5,495,000 the decline was less than the 300,000 expected on the basis of past experience. However, it was the first drop in a steady six-month climb in the idle total.

Employment on the other hand rose by a whopping 861,000 to 65,516,000. This was a record number at work for March, while the unemployed total was the highest idle figure in March in 20 years.

Walter W. Heller, President Kennedy's chief economic adviser, repeated a forecast that a turnaround in the economy, after its year-long downslide, is close at hand. But he said the nation will be lucky if the unemployment rate, now close to 7 per cent, falls below 4 per cent before 1962.

Seymour Wolfson, manpower statistics chief, said the latest government job report demonstrates that the phenomenon of both high employment and high unemployment can be expected to continue for some time.

Unemployment should drop seasonally in April and May, but jump back to more than 2.5 million in June when 2.5 million students flood the work force seeking summer jobs.

April 24-25.

Originally the briefing conference was slated to be "on the record," allowing direct quotes on anything said to the group.

It is understood Rusk had a hand in the last-minute change in reporting rules. It is understood Rusk saw no point in inviting people from all over the country to come to Washington just to tell them what already has been given to the public.

Rusk was understood to believe the conference would be of more value under rules forbidding quotation or attribution and thus permitting officials perhaps to speak more freely than if they were being directly quoted.

CHAPTER XXVIII

After making his shambling way across Summit into Ute Street, Buff Spooner sought a pocket of darkness. Though walking this far had served to steady him somewhat, it also made him increasingly conscious of his condition. At first a sort of physical numbness had told him, but now this was giving way to pain which slugged his battered face and head with torment. Added to this was nausea, the sickness.

The fear was worst of all. A pressure which should not leave him, which moved as he moved and lay on him with smothering weight. During those savage moments when the fury of Chris Waddell had raged, something gave way in the makeup of Buff Spooner; some vital thread which bent and broke and would never be the same again. And now, presently, the fear sent him stumbling along to the retreat of safety which he knew best—the back room of the Belle Union.

He paid no attention to the startled stares which followed him as he made his uncertain way down the length of the barroom; in fact was not even aware of them. Nor did he knock at that rear door, just pushed it wide and lurched through. Under the cone of light above the center table, Hogan Geer and Price Ringgold had their heads together in some kind of conference. Geer came around harshly.

"You know better than to break in here this way. What's the matter with you?"

Buff seemed not to hear, just weaved to a chair and fell into it, which brought his face low enough for the light to strike it fully. Geer, about to throw further angry words, held silent for a moment, staring, before snapping another question.

"What happened to you?"

"Waddell."

"You mixed with Waddell? Why?"

Buff opened his battered mouth, closed it again. Suddenly he was afraid to voice the real reason. And before Hogan Geer could question him further, the door swung again, letting in his brothers, Elvie and Lee. Geer put his anger on them.

"The three of you have been told a dozen times to knock on that door before you open it. Now you either start obeying orders exactly as I give them, or you're through eating and drinking on me. I can find plenty of others who'll do as they're told. Now—close—that door!"

Lee Spooner hastened to obey, while Elvie stared at Buff and spoke sullenly. "Feller out front said he'd seen Buff come in here and that Buff was hurt."

"He's not hurt bad enough to start any stampede," Geer cut in acidly. "Somebody bounced their fists off him, that's all. He claims it was Waddell."

"Waddell?" Elvie turned toward the door again. "Anybody hits Buff, hits Lee and me, too. And me and Lee, we'll take care of that feller Waddell right now, once and for all!"

"No you don't!" rapped Geer. "You go out that door against my orders and you can keep right on traveling. I mean that! I want to know more about this." He turned to Buff again. "All right, it was Waddell who worked you over. He must of had a reason. What was it?"

Buff squirmed. He wished now he hadn't come here so directly, but had hid out somewhere else until his mind cleared and he had thought up some reason other than the real one for the beating. Buff couldn't face that dark and searching stare. Nor could he any longer evade Geer's bleak demand.

"That girl," he blurted. "So that's it, eh," said Geer. "You tried to manhandle a girl. What girl?"

Buff squirmed again before making reluctant admission. "The one who works for Miller."

Hogan Geer jerked forward, grabbing Buff by the shoulder. "You laid hands on the Vespaian girl? You did? Why you stupid lout, do you want to turn the whole camp against us?" "She gave me the eye," defended Buff weakly.

"You lie!" snapped Geer. "She wouldn't wipe her feet on the likes of you. It's too bad Waddell didn't break your stupid neck!"

The fear surged up in Buff again as he recalled the import of Chris Waddell's final words. "Waddell aims to kill me," he mumbled. "He said so. Told me if I was in Midas Hill, come tomorrow mornin'. I'd be dead. That's what he said."

Elvie Spooner put his sullen stare on Hogan Geer.

"You see? Well, Lee and me, we ain't waitin' around for this Waddell to come gunnin' for Buff."

"You're going to stay right here and do as you're told," Geer told him. "I've got my own plans on how to handle Mister Waddell and that's the way it will be."

Says Day in Jail Is a Long Time

DENVER, Colo. (AP)—Vi Murphy, 35, a newspaperwoman sentenced to a 30-day jail term for contempt, was introduced to her Denver County jail routine Monday with a dinner of beans, cornbread, tea and stewed prunes.

"The first day seemed like two weeks," Mrs. Murphy said in an interview at the jail where she is one of 27 women prisoners.

The mother of four is a reporter for the Colorado Springs Gazette-Telegraph. She was sentenced to jail for refusing to disclose the source of an advance copy of a petition filed with the Colorado Supreme Court.

Mrs. Murphy reported to the jail Monday. She was allowed to take cosmetics, a toothbrush and pictures of her children to her cell. The children are being cared for by her husband and her mother.

Warden Dan Stills said Mrs. Murphy is being treated the same as other women prisoners.

She is allowed no telephone privileges. She was assigned a single cell for the time being—a normal procedure for newly arrived jail inmates. She will be moved later into dormitory-style quarters with other prisoners.

Facts of Life Around Areas of Arkansas

By BOB HARING
Associated Press Staff Writer

Modern gadgetry continues to hit new peaks.

Among the latest items offered to make life in Arkansas more enjoyable are electric knives and automatic corkscrews.

The electric knives operate about like a power saw. The automatic corkscrew uses carbon dioxide to force corks out of bottle-necks without straining.

Next up should be an electric coat-hanger, another gadget it would be possible to enjoy life without.

Mrs. R. R. Vinson of Jonesboro could go into the lemonade business in a big way. Just one of her lemons would keep her supplied for a good while.

She has about a dozen lemons on the tree which she keeps in her house. The biggest is a two-pound giant. It's nearly six inches in diameter. Another one weighs about a pound and a half.

They make tangy pies, she reports.

An election in Perla which pitted men's votes against those by the women would be a close one. In fact, it probably would end in a tie.

A special census in the community near Malvern last week showed that the town has 88 white females and 88 white males. It has 52 Negro males and 51 Negro females.

If grandmothers are the best friends of children, 3-year-old Roger Keith Ward of Jonesboro ought to be the best-treated boy around.

J. B. Penn of Lynn reports the young son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Ward has six living relatives he can call "grandma"—Mrs. Milla Watson of Wayne, Mich.; Mrs. W. B. Clinton of Lynn and Mrs. Esom Nunnally of near Smithville on his father's side of the family and Mrs. Murr Durham, Mrs. Ethel Massey and Mrs. E. Norman, all of Strawberry, on his mother's side.

Having a son is a special event for any family, but the birth of a boy to Mr. and Mrs. Joe Larue of West Memphis was a big occasion for Crittenden Memorial Hospital, too. Mrs. Larue was the 30,000th patient since the hospital opened Nov. 15, 1951.

James E. Ginette and William Burnett of Watson Chapel had their hands full fishing the other day. And they came up with some nice handfuls of fish, too.

They picked up a string of lunkers—the biggest one weighing eight pounds—from thick mud in a lake bed after the dam at the Roy Glover lake gave way, spilling the water out.

Workers at the Fayetteville water department's filter plant were startled the other day to see a buck deer dash into an open pond.

They dropped a rope around the 150-pound buck's neck and dragged it from the water. It scampered away into the woods, undisturbed by its soaking.

War Admiral Dies

LONDON (AP)—Adm. Sir Cyril Eustace Douglas-Pennant, who helped plan the World War II landings in Sicily and Normandy, died Monday at his London home. He was 65.

Sees More Meets on Laos Question

LONDON (AP)—The Foreign Office acknowledged today further meetings will be needed in Moscow before an East-West plan is worked out for a cease-fire in Laos.

A spokesman said nevertheless the British official view still is "encouraging."

Sir Frank Roberts, British ambassador to Moscow, conferred Monday with Deputy Foreign Minister Vasil Kuznetsov on the three-point British plan—a cease-fire, inspection by the Indian-Polish-Canadian commission, and then a 14-nation conference to establish Laos as a neutral state.

Cotton Prices Up on Foreign Mkt.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Cotton prices have been rising in foreign markets in recent months.

The Foreign Agricultural Service reported today that prices of most growths rose 1 to 1.5 cents a pound during the first seven months of the current marketing season. Actually, about half this increase occurred in the past two months.

The service said this price strength—which has been reflected in domestic markets—shows a close balance of world production and demand at or near record levels.

Less Foreign Aid Money Is Likely

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., said today the temper of Congress indicates President Kennedy may have to settle for less foreign aid.

"It may well be, he said, 'that Congress will reduce the span and cut the funds Kennedy asked for a new, consolidated foreign aid agency.'

Kennedy had asked authority for the agency to borrow $7.3 billion from the Treasury in the next five years for development loan projects.

Mansfield conceded that Kennedy's request for $4 billion in economic and military assistance funds for the coming fiscal year may be cut back as much as $500 million.

"I think the President's long-range program will be more economical in the end than the year-by-year programs we have had," Mansfield said. "I think we will get more for our foreign aid money and that a great deal of overlapping, duplication and waste can be eliminated."

"But the temper of the Congress being what it is, I am afraid we may end up with no more than a three-year program

Jobless Pay Funds Are Received

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Overdue federal funds to cover back payments to unemployed workers and veterans have been received by the state Employment Security Division, and 2,512 checks totaling $71.06 have been sent out.

The checks had been held up since March 17 because federal funds had been depleted in the state agency through which they are distributed.

James Bland, ESD director, said the government paid $238,467 to cover payments and future claims.

and with less money than he has asked."

Sen. George D. Aiken, R-Vt., a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said in a separate interview he thinks most Republicans will support a substantial aid program. But he, too, thought three years would be the limit for congressional authorization of the development loan fund.

Kennedy's plan to let the fund draw directly on the Treasury for low-cost development loans to Africa, Latin America, the Middle East and Asia also is likely to come under fire in Congress.

Republicans have opposed this in the past as "back-door financing." They have insisted that Congress keep control over such funds through its regular appropriations system.

Optimism of Wall St. May Be Shaken

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—A new rush of profit and loss statements is on the way. And some of them may shake the optimism of the Wall Street bulls from time to time.

The early reports on industrial earnings in the first months of this year have run strongly to decline from the previous year. This could change as more reports.

Even the banks are joining the parade. They have been able to hold on to steady increases in profits, contrary to the downward trend that has plagued so many of their industrial customers during the slide in business activity.

But at last declining interest rates have caught up with the banks. And the first reports for the January-March quarter show a majority of the financial institutions making less money than a year ago, despite a modest increase in the volume of loans in many instances.

Interest rates have fallen for two reasons.

First, there has been a drop of over-all demand for loans spread throughout the financial community—for mortgages, installment credit and long-term debt for corporate expansion, as well as the short-term borrowing of industry from banks. In the banks' case their customers often needed less short-term borrowing to carry reduced stocks or to meet trimmed payrolls.

Second, the money managers in Washington started months ago to ease the money market as a weapon against recession—by whatever name they may have been calling it then. This trend has continued under the new administration which wants long-term interest rates to fall to encourage recovery and economic growth, while short-term rates hold firm.

Big city banks are now scaling their interest charges on business loans from a base of 4½ per cent. A year ago the minimum charge was 5 per cent.

The easy-money policy plus the recession's lessening of demand for long-term funds has sent yields from bonds down, so that banks are getting less from this source of investment. Mortgage rates now are softening, meaning still less income for the various institutions and individuals who are in this financial market.

Organizes Youths

HAVANA (AP)—Fidel Castro's government today announced it is extending its youth regimentation program down to 7 year olds.

A Union of Rebel Pioneers will be organized in all the nation's primary schools. It will be made up of students 7 to 13 years old who are outstanding in scholarship and deportment.

Fire Destroys Funeral Home

CROSSETT, Ark. (AP)—Fire destroyed the Jones Funeral Home in Crossett early today, causing damage estimated by Fire Chief Gene Armstrong at $50,000.

A policeman discovered smoke coming from the downtown building and called firemen. The firemen saved two hearses and a station wagon from an adjoining garage, but all equipment in the funeral home itself was destroyed.

Only the shell of the frame building remained standing.

Armstrong said the fire apparently started from a floor furnace in the center of the building.

Richard Jones, one of the owners, said the building would be rebuilt. It also housed a flower shop.

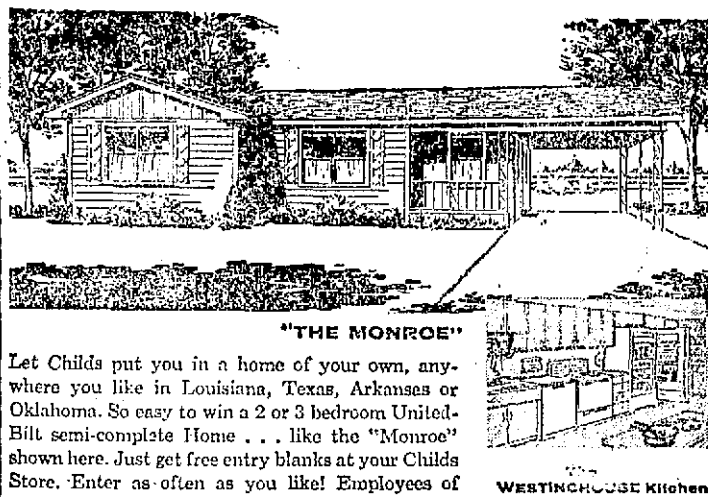

Algerian Rebels Hail Conference

TUNIS, Tunisia (AP)—Algerian rebel circles today hailed the first conference between U.S. Ambassador Walter N. Wamsley and rebel officials as an indication the United States has taken open action in their behalf.

By opening talks with the rebels, the United States made "a great step toward recognition" of the rebel government in exile, one observer said.

Wamsley refused to say what was discussed, saying that was up to Washington.

Recession of TV Westerns Is Assured

Television In Review
By FRED DANZIG
United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI)—You'll wonder where the Westerns went when you flip the dial on your TV set.

A glance at the rapidly filling network schedules for next season bears out those reports you've been hearing about a recession on TV's Western front.

So far, the three networks are showing a definite coolness toward Westerns as they reach for offbeat situation comedies, adult cartoon formats, a game show or two, exotic adventure series and the mystery-drama shows in filling their time slots for 1961-62.

Apart from "Gunsmoke," which CBS-TV is expanding to a full-hour next season, no new Westerns are headed our way. This doesn't mean that TV's Western buffs are being shut out. There will still be at least 14 horse operas carrying over from the current season. There were about a dozen more when the 1960-61 season began.

Carryovers for next season include "Have Gun, Will Travel," "Wagon Train," "Rifleman," "Bonanza," "Rawhide" and possibly five others. Already departed or going bye-bye are "Wanted—Dead or Alive," "The Westerner," "Stagecoach West," "Wyatt Earp," "Bat Masterson," "Zane Grey Theater," "Deputy," "The Rebel," "Gunsmoke" and the once-mighty "Maverick."

Since TV's Western chart seems to be bottoming out, I elected to live dangerously Tuesday night and watched not one, not two, but three Westerns—the hard way; one after another.

I stayed with ABC-TV for "Rifleman," "Wyatt Earp" and "Stagecoach West" in that order. In "Rifleman," Buddy Hackett played the part of a fellow named Bibbs. In "Wyatt Earp," Morgan Woodward turned up as an old-timer called Gibbs. And in "Stagecoach West," Steven Terrell was a bad-guy named Tibbs. Bibbs, Gibbs and Tibbs. Our Westerns have looked alike for so long that there's no reason why they shouldn't sound alike, too.

Only "Stagecoach" held attention. The ambitious story kept plugging along—plugging in the word, for I counted about a dozen fatalities during the hour—but it was the photography that was most worthwhile. The entire story took place outdoors and the hard-working cameras succeeded in creating setups that fairly glistened with atmosphere and then someone went and added shattering background music to the proceedings and ruined everything.

The Channel Swim: Fred Astaire will be more active than ever before on TV next season. The dancer-singer-actor has agreed to serve as host for Alcoa's new weekly series on the ABC-TV schedule beginning Tuesday, Oct. 10. Astaire will star in several programs as well. The series, replacing "Alcoa Presents," is planning musical specials along with dramatic anthology formats. Viewers in the average American TV home spent 6 hrs. 8 mins. per day watching TV in February, according to the latest Nielsen figures. The average represents an all-time high.

Jack Benny's daughter, JJJoan, will appear in "The Beverly Hills Police Station," now being filmed as a forthcoming presentation on the Sunday night CBS-TV comedy show presided over by her dad. NBC-TV's widely acclaimed "Project 20" production, "The Story of Will Rogers," will be repeated during the summer.

Returned Arkansans to Get More Pay

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Employment Security Administrator J. L. Bland said today that 6,256 Arkansans who have lost jobs in other states and returned to Arkansas will collect about $1,575,000 from the other states in additional unemployment benefits.

He said 1,306 residents of other states who lost jobs in Arkansas will get about $404,000 in extended benefits from Arkansas under a new program providing an additional 13 weeks of payments.

Arkansas jobless will get about $5 million for the 13 weeks, he said, and Arkansas will come out ahead in the overall picture as the state's unemployed will get about $6,575,000 while Arkansas employers will pay about $6 in taxes for the program.

2 of 3 Bomarc's Successful

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—Three Bomarc-A missiles, one of which failed, were launched here Tuesday by Air Force crews from Santa Rosa Island, Fla.

The Air Force said the three separate launchings were successful, but one of the ground-to-air missiles malfunctioned and fell into the Gulf. There was no further explanation of the malfunctioning.

Bing's Father in Law Beaten

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Bing Crosby's father-in-law was defeated Tuesday in his attempt to become Texas' junior senator.

Delbert E. Grandstaff, 61, West Columbia, father of actress Kathy Grant, polled 2,086 votes compared with 321,686 for Republican John G. Tower. Grandstaff ran as a Democrat in the special election to fill the seat resigned by Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson.

Off-Record Data Not Tied to JFK

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy and his secretary of state, Dean Rusk, for two days have been attempting to inform the American public on their foreign problems—by remote control.

They did the informing on an off-the-record basis. Whether this is half so effective or informative as talking to the public directly—say through nationwide TV—is open to big dispute.

Rusk and other high State Department officials spoke here to about 500 radio-TV executives, commentators and newsmen who came from around the country at their own expense. Tuesday Kennedy talked to them, too.

But, since it was all off-the-record, two rules apply:

1. When these people return home, if they want to talk on the air or in print about what they learned, none of it can be presented as coming from Kennedy, Rusk or others in the administration.

2. They must present what they learned, if they wish to discuss it at all, as their own views, in one way or another. They were told no secrets, of course, because none could be divulged without violating national security.

For several weeks now, other officials of the Kennedy administration have been talking off-the-record with newsmen and TV commentators at luncheons and dinners.

Here, too, nothing reported later can be presented as coming from them, directly or indirectly, or as reflecting the views of the administration. Some of these off-the-record sessions can be extraordinarily dull and barren.

Officials in the administrations of Presidents Roosevelt, Truman and Eisenhower held similar off-the-record sessions but with small groups of newsmen and commentators.

Eisenhower himself had a series of such meetings with newsmen he invited to the White House for dinners.

The trouble with all this—from the standpoint of public information—is that the public is not being told and in fact, by the rules laid down, is prevented from being told the true origin of this information.

There is one situation in which the public can have no doubt Kennedy is talking. That is at his wide open news conferences, because then he can be quoted directly in all he says.

But time alone in these 30-minute sessions must often prevent him from going into all the detail an answer to a question may require.

And, since his statements are answers to questions, he does not have a chance to go into problems he may consider more important and worthy of discussion than what is asked him.

He could do a real educational job with the public by talking to it directly on TV about national problems. For some reason he hasn't tried this yet.

Eisenhower started doing it early in his administration, making his first such TV talk on April 16, 1953. His secretary of state, the late John Foster Dulles made a TV talk on foreign policy Jan. 2, 1953, seven days after taking office.

True, Rusk is less talkative than Dulles. But that doesn't answer this question: Why take the long way around, staying out of sight, to inform the public when the direct, wide-open approach would be simpler, easier and more effective?

Pay Telephone Is Now Paying

GUILDFORD, England (AP)—The pay telephone that millionaire Paul Getty installed in his stately English home is paying off.

"Of course the guests are using it," said Getty in an interview, "and what's more the servants and workmen we've got around here, they're using it too."

The American oilman—one of the world's richest men—installed the pay station last week to help him keep track of his phone bill. "You know," he said in his slow Oklahoma drawl, "the British send you a telephone bill only twice a year and by the time you get it, well, it's pretty hard to work out just who made what calls."
